PREFACE

We are happy to announce our customer service agreement, which is part of our commitment to you and the public at large. Preparation of this agreement is a very important event in achieving our goals in line with the vision, mission and our values. This customer service agreement is designed specifically to ensure the client that these services will be provided effectively and in time.

Moreover, this agreement aims to make you understand our responsibility, your rights as well as your responsibility as a client. In this agreement, we have explained our services and applicable standards, quality and ways to reach a consensus at the event our services were grown below the standard arranged.

This agreement does not explain all the activity/services provided by the TFS but we explained some of the key and important areas for you. This agreement will be amended accordingly following the changes that will rise within TFS and changes that will rise from you. The key areas of our relationship are as follows:

- o Issuing of License on time
- o Provision of accurate and reliable information
- o Handling of complaints and comment on time
- o Provision of conservation knowledge and protection

Implementation of this agreement shall be permanent and regularly evaluated for the improvement of customer service. The evaluation report will be published to raise awareness and improve the efficiency of our services.

This Agreement shall be permanent and a tool to create better relations between you and us. It is my hope that through this agreement you can tell us where you were not pleased by our service levels and we promise to improve our services to the best of our ability.
